Bats of Florida

Selena and Mark Kiser will talk about the conservation and natural history of Florida's bats, with an emphasis on how to attract them! Bats are cool!

Selena Kiser is an avid birder, naturalist, and wildlife biologist working as a writer and photographer for the Florida Wildlife magazine. From 1998 to 2005, she worked with bats and artificial roosts for Bat Conservation International in Austin, Texas. Selena has a B.S. in Life Sciences from Missouri University of Science and Technology and a Master's in Wildlife Biology from North Carolina State University.

Mark Kiser is a planning consultant with the FDEP/ Florida Park Service in Tallahassee. He holds a B.S. in Biology from Appalachian State University in North Carolina and an M.S. in Zoology from Auburn University, Alabama. Selena and Mark volunteer for several citizen-science bird monitoring projects.
